The new plugin is the only solution currently available for adding the list of all forum users into bbPress powered forums, and it is very easy to use, it works as soon as it is installed and offers few settings for improved control. The directory page features optional user role filter and keyword search, with options to change the order of displayed users using different criteria. The member's list shows user avatar, role, registration date, number of topics and replies, and name with link of the member's latest post in the forum.

GD Members Directory Pro for bbPress is sixth premium plugin released by Dev4Press for bbPress powered forums, with license price starting from $39.00 for single website installation. The plugin is also part of the Dev4Press Plugins Club and bbPress Plugins Club membership licenses.
